FEW COMPLAINTS ON PRICE OF COAL RECEIVED STATES GOVERNOR KILBY

Complainants Decline to Permit Use of Their Names
In Cases

NO INVESTIGATION OF
CHARGES ARE PLANNED

Executive Reiterates Declaration That the Public Will Be Protected

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 21.—

Governor Kilby issued a statement Friday afternoon in which he said a few complaints of exorbitant charges for coal had been received by the state fuel administrator, W. A. Darden, but that no action could be taken against the profiteers because the complainants declined to permit the use of their names and no investigation of the charges could be made.

Governor Kilby reiterated his statement that he would protect the people against coal profiteering even to the extent of calling an extra session of the legislature but could do nothing toward obtaining evidence of profiting unless those who were made the victims would join him and the fuel administrator in the investigation.

Governor Kilby's statement regarding profiteering in coal follows:

"Early in September the state fuel administrator published a list of fair maximum prices for coal in Alabama during the winter. These prices ranged from $2.60 a ton to $6 a ton. At that time I told the people of Alabama that the state government could and would protect them from the profiteers and if necessary there would be an extra session of the legislature.

"Some complaints of profiteering have been received by the state fuel administrator, Mr. W. A. Darden.
These complaints involve only a few coal operators and a few retail dealers. The great majority of the operators and dealers, insofar as this offense is concerned, are complying with the fair price list.

"My resolution to protect the people from the profiteers is as strong now as ever but I must have the co-operation of those who are making the complaints. I find that those who are making the complaints do not desire to have their names used in the investigations which must be made before any action can be taken against the profiteers.

"It is not possible to make any inquiry without the use of the names of those who have complained. If it were possible it would not be right to attempt to protect those who are not willing to protect themselves.

"The profiteers can be eliminated if those who are charged exorbitant prices for coal will make a full report to the state fuel administrator, with their names and addresses. In giving the information regarding profiteering the informant should furnish the name of the operator, dealer or broker making the quotation or sale, the trade name and grade of the coal and the price quoted or paid.

"It will not be possible for the fuel administrator to give any attention whatever to complaints of those who are not willing to have their names used in the investigations."

Failed To Offer Aid To Pup, Is Fined

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—Because he did not stop and give aid to a dog he had run down, Thomas McGraw was fined $5.00 in recorder's court here today.

KING OF BEASTS CAUSE TERROR; SCHOOLS CLOSE

(Associated Press.)

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Oct. 21.—A lion hunt was on today in the undergrowth skirting Lake Michigan's shore, where two kings of the jungle are reported roaming.

Six persons have seen the beasts, according to Sheriff Bridgeman, who led the hunt. Some country schools are closed. One report had it that the lions escaped from a circus near Peoria.

ON WAY TO GAME AUTOISTS PLUNGE INTO RIVER HERE

Charles C. Phillips, of Yazoo City, Miss., and three companies all from the University of the South at Sewanee, last night drove into the Tennessee River at the "Upper Ferry."

Mr. Phillips had been told that the river was two miles south of the Twin cities, so when he saw lights in the darkness ahead, he believed he had two miles further to go before reaching the ferry.

He was driving his car at over 20 miles an hour when all at once he saw his plight too late to stop.
With all on board he plunged down the steep place toward the barge landing but with quick perception the driver turned from the danger of driving into the deep waters beside the barge and steered to the right hand which maneuver enabled the unfortunates to accept the lesser of two evils.

Thirty dollars worth of damage was done the car and all four occupants were deluged in water up to their necks and badly scared in the bargain.

Last night an obliging local auto establishment repaired the damaged car and a local hotel housed the city's enforced guests. They left early this morning for the Sewanee-Alabama football game at Birmingham and may be shouting themselves hoarse for the Tennessee collage at this very minute.

POSITION REVERSED ON TRAIN FARE CUT

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 21.—

Passenger fare on intrastate traffic will not be reduced from 3.6 cents a mile to 3 cents until December 15.
The public service commission today announced that the effectiveness of the order issued early in August had been postponed from November 15 to December 15 because of the conditions which have faced the railroads in recent weeks.

Shortly after the order was issued the commission postponed the effectiveness of the order and since that time another postponement of 30 days has been granted. The strike of railroad shopmen and the falling off of traffic and business was announced as the cause of the extension granted the roads.

It will not be possible for the fuel
administrator to give any attention
whatever to complaints of those who are not willing to have their names
used in the investigations."

World's Gliding Records Broken

NEW HAVEN, England, Oct. 21.— In a gliding competition, G. R. Olley, in a Fokker biplane, broke the world's record for gliding with a passenger, remaining in the air 49 minutes.

APPROPRIATION OF SCHOOL FUNDS OF COUNTY MADE FOR THE CURRENT YEAR

Financial Side of the Educational Program Well Up To Standard

SCHOOLS EXPECTED TO RUN THE FULL TERM

Resume of the Educational Activities Given to County Board

The Morgan County Board of Education met at the courthouse for the purpose of apportioning the state and county funds, for the various schools of the county. The financial part of the educational program is well up to the standard set for former years, and it is thought that all the rural schools will with the apportionment which has been made, be able to run the entire full term. Certain it is that in those districts where the three mill tax has been voted and is now in force, will be able with this additional resources to draw from, run their schools the entire full term.

The Board of Education at its recent meeting made the following liberal apportionments: For the county at large, $133,436.84; apportionment per capita, $10.35; city of Decaturn's part, $12,896.10; city of Albany, $21,383.10; Hartselle schools, not including the county high school, $7,638.05; balance for the entire county, including the county high school, office expenses and all other items not included in the above enumeration, $91,519.59.

At this meeting the board heard a resume of the educational activities, this report being made by the county superintendent, which showed that more actual building and other equipment had been added to the educational interests of the county during the last 18 months than any other similar period of time within the history of the public school system in the county. All the public rural schools began the new school year last Monday, each with one or more teachers, and it has been necessary in several instances to add other teachers to take care of the large enrollment.

Superintendent of Education E.
L. Hays is giving his entire time to the school interests, making frequent visits over the county seeing that each particular school is functioning in the proper way, giving inspirational addresses to the students, and is still planning more

Features of Puzzling Registration Law Are Made Clear to the Voters

The law providing for the registration of voters has been mystifying to a great majority of those who would exercise the franchise. It has never been clearly set forth to prospective voters, and thereby has created a great deal of confusion as to its requirements. In order to clear up that portion which relates to the specific duty of those who would register and qualify as electors, the following quotation from the registration law contained in sections six and seven of the state acts is clear and cannot be misunderstood.

Section 6 says: The Board of Register's in each county shall visit each precinct at least once and oftener if necessary, between January 1st and April 1st, 1922, and each two years

Flies At More Than Four Miles a Minute

Here is Lieutenant R. L. Maughan, of the U. S. Army Air Service, winner of the Pulitzer air race, in Detroit, at 206 miles an hour. Then, to show how fast his Curtiss raver, powered with a 400-horse-power Curtiss motor, really was, Lieutenant Maughan flew over a measured kilometer at the dazzling speed of 248 miles an hour—more than four miles a minute and faster than any human being ever traveled before. At that speed he could cross the American continent in less than ten hours.

PROBERS CONFIDENT OF AN EARLY ARREST IN DOUBLE MURDER

(Associated Press.)

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 21.— Supported by information in affidavits by a reported eye witnesses to the murder of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, the authorities appeared confident today that the mystery soon is to be solved. Guards are keeping the leading characters in the drama under surveillance. No fear, however, is felt that suspected persons might escape.

Detectives are running down the details considered essential before making arrests.

Autoist Offers Own Child For the One That He Ran Down

(Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.— Charles Duckley, charged with running down and killing Marion Newton, aged 4, offered to give his own child, Isabel, aged 5, to the parents of the dead child. The offer was refused.

Fishing Party Back With Many Tales

Judge W. T. Lowe, Circuit Clerk J. L. Draper, Attorney A. J. Harris and Rev. George Davenport were the guests of Judge Charles Sherrod at his fishpond near Wheeler Station Thursday. Each fisherman brings back about the same fish tale and all testified alike to the number of fish caught.

In law, it would be said that the witnesses were "fixed," but their testimony is taken at its face value, and they are to be congratulated on the splendid success they had angling, and the royal entertainment afforded them by Judge Sherrod.

JUSTICE DAY TO RESIGN POSITION ON COURT BENCH

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Associate Justice William R. Day, of the supreme court, has decided definitely to resign from the bench in view of his duties as umpire in the German-American reparations claims negotiations, and is expected to present his resignation formally to President Harding early next week.

SPECIAL SERIES WILL MARK ANNIVERSARY

The seventh anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. R. F. Stuckey, of the First Baptist Church of Albany, is to be celebrated, by a series of special meetings beginning Monday evening.

It was announced that members of the congregations of the local pastors who are to preach at the Eastside church, this coming week, are especially invited.

Monday night beginning at early candle light, Dr. W. P. Wilks, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, of Albany, will occupy Rev. Stuckey's pulpit; Tuesday night Rev. Grover C. Walker, pastor of the South-side Baptist Church will hold the special service at the Eastside Church; Wednesday night and Tuesday night, Dr. C. C. Davison, pastor of the Baptist Church of Decatur and Rev. J. W. Jones, pastor of the Austinville Baptist Church, respectively, will make gospel addresses at the same church.

The final service will be Friday night when Rev. Stuckey is expected to occupy his pulpit.

Voting Precinct Created By Board

A new voting place has been allowed by the county board of revenue for the Somerville beat but owing to the fact that the election supplies had been ordered from the printer before the allowing of the new box, it will be necessary for voters in that prescribed area to vote at one or the other of the two boxes in that beat as heretofore, according to Judge L. P. Troup, when asked in regard to the matter.
The inspectors, clerks and returning officers have already been appointed for the approaching regular election and the matter of the creation of this new box was called to the attention of the appointing board, who in turn sought the advice of the probate judge, how to proceed under the circumstances.

FRENCH ALLIANCE BE STRENGTHENED BY NEW CABINET; GEORGE IS SILENT

All Political Parties Will Welcome Prospect of General Election

CURZON TO BE ENVOY
IN TURKISH PARLEYS

Retiring Premier Will Make Known Plans in Manchester Speech

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 21.—All political parties will welcome the prospect of an immediate general election which it is recognized, could not have been delayed in any case.

If the conservatives come into power their policy, it is declared, will be to concentrate upon a sound administration and economy.

Among the chief features of the foreign policy will be a strengthening of the entente with France and recasting the British Near East policy.

It is generally accepted as definitely settled that Lord Curzon will remain as secretary for foreign af-airs in the new cabinet and thus will represent Great Britain at the Turkish peace conference.

Mr. Lloyd George in a message sent to William Cosgrave, president of the Dail Eireann, has removed any fear of opposition from him in his new position as leader of the opposition in Parliament.

The Marquis of Salisbury, on behalf of the "die hards" has made a similar promise so there is no party in the House of Commons that is likely to offer any hindrance to the carrying of the Irish treaty into effect.

The retiring Premier left for Leeds with his sword in his hand, as he asserted in a short address at the station prior to his departure.

Although he delivered five addresses from the rear of his car on the way to Leeds he has left until later his speech in Leeds in which he will reveal his tactics.

There is intense curiosity everywhere as to whether he has any new domestic reforms or legislative plans to propose as a new election battle cry.

There have been rumors that he has some new plan for unemployment insurance with a view to detaching the labor vote from the labor party and bringing it into the fold of his proposed new center party.

GEORGE G. ROOP DIES AT TRINITY

George G. Roop, one of Morgan County's best known residents, died at Trinity this morning at 6 o'clock.
He had been in ill health during the past year.

For many years Mr. Roop was a druggist at Trinity and he was known throughout the county. He was a member of the Episcopalian church and a citizen of the highest standing.
He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Ben Dupont of Evansville, Ill., who will arrive here tonight to attend the services; a brother who resides in Missouri.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday from the residence, conducted by Rev. T. G. Mun-day and Rev. L. A. Hall, and interment will be made at the old Moseley burial grounds on the Courtland pike.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

ENTER BONAR LAW EXIT LLOYD GEORGE.

The day after his resignation was accepted, former Premier Lloyd George when asked what he was going to do said: "I am waiting to see what the others will do." This statement and the fact that he expects to plunge into the present campaign in England, has led some writers to predict that the little Welshman will later offer for high office, with the view of regaining the Premiership later on. William E. Gladstone was Premier of England four different times and held the office the last time at the extreme age of 84. As active and great as was Gladstone, his accomplishments certainly do not out rank those of Lloyd George, if indeed they equal them. The idea is, that if Gladstone was Premier four times, it is not reasonable to suppose that George will be content with one term's service.

Few men of the World war period have as many great deeds to their credit as has Mr. Lloyd George. When he saw Attorney Asquith falling down on the job as Premier, George joined with Lord Northcliffe in open and unrelenting criticism. When George took hold of the munition industry in England during the war, he is said to have had only one stenographer and a plain table, but that before many weeks he had made the office of Minister of Munitions one of the most powerful in the empire. It was but a step when Lord Kitchener was destroyed by the Germans, for George to assume the office of the dead warrior. He sent larger guns and higher explosives to the front. He forced conscription and raised an army of 5,000,000 soldiers and to see that they were properly furnished he raised another army of 5,000,000 working men, whose duty it was to place food, guns and ammunition at the disposal of the fighting men. George is credited with having led the movement for elevating Foch to supreme command over the entire Allied armies. And George was one of the "big four" at Versailles, when the Germans were forced to sign of the dotted line. It was George who piloted his country and in a sense the whole world through the dangerous reconstruction days following the World war. He is the man who is given credit for bringing a measure of peace to Ireland after 700 years of warfare. And his last act when others merely talked, was to stop the Turks when they stood before Constantinople, and were preparing to take their old place in European affairs.

It is said that his disposition of the Turkish menace, coupled with his blunt criticism of France, were the two things that led directly to his downfall. But whatever the cause of Lloyd George's resignation of one of the two or three most powerful positions in the world, we are not likely to see his like again, and quite possibly his equal will not be forthcoming.

Bonar Law who is now Premier of England, is busily organizing a new government, and it is said he will work for a stricter economy in internal affairs, and "for a closer co-operation among allies in international affairs."

Still another definition of a pessimist. One who says that trouble is this world's chief commodity.

AN INVENTION BY WHICH CIVILIZATION HAS SPREAD.

Almost 500 years have passed since the invention of movable type. It will not be possible to celebrate the five hundredth anniversary of the invention until 1940, but already lovers of books and publishers of them are talking about and thinking about that anniversary with a view to celebrating it. This is looking ahead pretty far, but when it comes to observing the anniversary of the one thing, which more than anything else has contributed to the march of civilization, people may be excused for planning far ahead.

No one thing in all the world, probably has contributed so greatly to the advancement of civilization as a whole as has the invention of printing with movable type. It gave the people newspapers and books, the greatest civilizing influences known to mankind. It gave to the people the Bible, with the result that religion has been carried to the uttermost parts of the earth and countless millions have been able to read the Holy Scriptures who before were denied this privilege. Now the Bible is published in every known language and in increasing numbers of volumes each year. It gave the child the means by which knowledge could be obtained, it has given the men and women through the centuries the consolation and the solace of reading many papers and many books and by so doing adding to their store of knowledge and increasing the joy of living.

After movable type had been invented by Coster or Gutenberg, printing of books rapidly was developed, and within sixty years, 40,000 books had been printed, it is claimed. People rapidly developed the appetite for reading.

Over in England, where they have more time on their hands than we have in America, research men have been checking up on book printing.

They estimate that about 16,500,000 separate books have been published, in all countries combined, since the invention of movable type.

Nearly 300,000 new books are turned loose on the world each year. The flood steadily grows larger.

In addition is the tremendous output of newspapers, magazines, trade papers, folders, booklets, etc.

Small wonder that most of us are perplexed when it comes to deciding what to read. We are like flies, facing a mountain of sugar, and unable to eat more than one grain at a time. It is rather a discouraging outlook for young writers. George Ade once said that the chief trouble with the writing business is that there is so much competition with dead men.

Even a rapid reader, reading all day and far into the night, would be unable to peruse more than 1 in 1000 of the new books issued yearly throughout the world. Life is short. We are caged in by the limits of time.

As with books, so with knowledge. The most brilliant brain finds life too short to acquire more than a tiny fraction of the vast fund of knowledge accumulated and passed on through the centuries by millions of inquiring minds.

Knowledge is a circus with a million rings, all going at once, no man able to grasp the whole show. The choice is to watch one ring intently (specialize) or wander up and down the tent picking up a smattering about all rings in general and none in particular.

French writers seem to grasp the idea. It is not unusual for one to devote a lifetime of research to writing the history of one article—such as the pin, glove or sparrow.

Greatest of all books is the never-ending serial story, the Book of Life. You see it mirrored in the newspaper.—Anniston Star.

The British lion and the French tiger are both claiming the honor of averting the impending crisis recently. There certainly is glory enough in the fact for both that the conflict was avoided, and each can have a share in it, which should satisfy.

Englishmen may live to wish they had let George do it.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS FOR THE SABBATH AND OTHER DAYS

J. E. Blair

There are individual, and also corporate burdens. If this were not true, then a contradiction might be seen between the well known scripture texts—"every man must bear his own burdens"—and "bear ye one another's burdens." These statements are merely set over against each other—they do not contradict. But even if you were convinced that they DO contradict, it should be borne in mind that no statement or set of statements, wherever found, can successfully defy the facts of life. And is it not true that the people who bear their own burdens, also bear must cheerfully and ably the burdens of the community of the state of the nation, of the church and of the world?

If you want something done for the public good do you not go to a person that is busy about his own business? And on the other hand, do not those who bear one another's burdens, "and so fulfil the law of Christ," row the life boat the hardest so as to pull their own weight and thereby support themselves and their families? St. Paul who was "in labors" "abundant" for the public good of the whole world, which he distinctly understood that he was not a charge upon the community, that he was not a pious slacker, that he was not a religious tramp! Hear him in Second Thessalonians 3:8, "Neither did we eat any man's bread for naught; but wrought with labor; (Paul was a tent-maker by trade) and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you; not because we have no power, but to make ourselves an example unto you to follow us. For even when we were with you, this we commanded, that if any would not work neither should he eat. For we hear that there are some among you who walk disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies. Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread." It is doubtful as to which class has brought cause of Christ into the most disrepute, those who boast that they pay their debts and pray for 'me, my wife, my son John and his wife, us four and no more," or the so-called "uplifters" and mere "announcers" of the Gospel, who play hide and seek with the truth and who are content to be leeches and parasites upon the community.

The chief end of religion is to develop perfect men and women, thoroughly furnished and fully equipped. But in the mean time because sin has entered, we must not expect perfection or judge too rigidly as to individual and collective duty. But rather we should say life is like a great caravan that moves on to that bourne from which no traveler ever returns. (Emphatically life is not an arena in which only the so-called "fittest" are to survive). And as we march those who grumble, shirk, and even actually load off their burdens on others, should not be stricken down to die by the way-side; but rather they should be rebuked and then encouraged to take up the march, determined to walk erect and to bear their own and the burdens of others as God may give them grace to do so.

motor car."

A soft drink turned away customers.

And furthermore all is not beer that bubbles.

A Druggist's Blunder.

"Guess I made a bad mistake just now," said the druggist.

"Fatal?"

"Not necessarily. Girl wanted a grand opera record and I gave her a speech by Wm. J. Bryan."

Why He Was Curious.

Two dusky devotees of the Goddess of Chance became involved in an altercation over a crap game.

"Look heah, chile," said one, "yo' trifles wid me an' dere'll be a brass ban' playing ahead of you cyar, wif yo' de onliest one not enjoying the music."

"Say yo' so li'l boy. Now I axes you, is yo' got any conspicuous an' prominent birfmarks or odder distinguishing means of 'identification?'"

"Who? Me? Ah's a lamb without spot or blemish. Why is yo' so curious?"

"Only dis, I'se wonderin' how, without dem, is yo' mammy gwine recognize yo' remains when they picks up the pieces."

Fighting Facts.

It is better to give than to grab.

It is more blessed to accommodate than to accumulate.

What To Learn

There are five things in life we ought to learn. Here they are.

1. Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.
2. Learn to tell a helpful story. A well told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a stick room.
3. Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to linger over your ills and sorrows.

Another reason some loafers oppose modern improvements like cement walks is that it takes three or four hours after sundown for a cement curb on the east side of the street to cool off sufficiently for sitting purposes.

At a largely attended meeting of the rail strikers held this morning at the Princess Theater the following ministers made addresses: Rev. L. Masterson, pastor of the Austinville Methodist Church and Rev. R. F. Stuckey.

It was announced that S. E. Roper was expected at the meeting Monday, with a possibility that W. H. Wilson, would also be present.

Green Cloud Over Coral Island.

It would be difficult for sailors to locate the low-lying coral islands or atolls of the Pacific but for the fact that over each of them there hangs a cloud of a characteristic sea blue. After one of these green clouds has been seen, the phenomenon is always easily recognized. The cloud is due to moisture evaporated from the warm water of the lagoon. The smooth surface of the lagoon acts as a mirror and shows a greenish reflection on the bottom.

THE FIGHTING STREAK.

A FINE TOM MIX PLAY

Tom Mix, the strenuous daredevil of William Fox pictures, is one of the few men on the screen today who refuses to be what is known in motion pictures as "a ready-made hero." He insists on performing his own heroics under the most difficult circumstances; always getting himself snarled in genuine perils and re-creating situations. Then while audience looks on with bated breath, he calmly extricates himself by the power of his own muscles and the latest picture, "The Fighting Streak" is an admirable example of this. It opened at the Delitey.

SUPERIOR COURT JUDGE SEES AND LIKES "FOOLISH WIVES"

By JOSEPH SABATH
(Judge of the Superior Court, Cook County, Ill.)

Why "Foolish Wives?"

Why not "Foolish Husbands" as well?

Both of them have furnished the material for as great a motion picture drama as was ever filmed. Each of them has furnished as much grist as the other to be ground fine in the divorce courts for the loaf of justice and repair of ruined lives.

If I, as judge assigned to hear divorces, before whom pass more foolish wives—and husbands—than the average man is privileged to study at a close range, am to be asked to draw a moral from the motion picture play, I would say that the title is more wrong, but the play and the moral all right.

The title "Foolish Wives" does not apply to the plot and personnel. There is only one foolish wife in the play and she is more foolish than her busy, somewhat careless and glib, though distinguished, husband. He falls for just as much angling intrigue as his foolish wife, transplanted from matter of fact America to the spectacular vanities and intriguing social maelstrom of Monte Carlo.

But the most beautiful feature of this most beautifully pictured, wonderfully acted and amazingly extravagant play, is the modern American understanding and forbearance that save the pair from marital disaster after their follies have led them onto the rocks of perilous experiences.

This latter is the great moral of the story. Because it carries this message it should be seen and taken to heart. It is this understanding of the temptations and trials of each party to a divorce suit and the advantage of forgiveness that I try to deliver to warring couples in my court. Often the word strikes home and reconciliation and real happiness result instead of separation.

As to the play itself, it is the last word in fine acting—not overdone—costly staging, endless painstaking in faithful reproduction of the ultra-wild life of Monte Carlo and an absorbing story leading directly to a thrilling climax. The sheer beauty of scenes in this play have never been outdone.

new schools to take the place of out-of-date buildings. Several of the schools have been equipped with libraries during the past 12 months and other features added to bring them up to the highest possible stage of efficiency.

In this work he has been loyally supported by the county board, and in every meeting there has been a spirit of the closest cooperation which has made it possible to accomplish the splendid things which have become a reality in the public school system of the county.

Under the old trustee system of managing the public schools of the county of the past, there was constant friction, proving conclusively that the present system of one efficient head, with other administrative systems vested in the county board of education, is decidedly best and all the schools of the county are now marching in a solid phalanx of cooperation, which makes the present high standards possible.

Holt Snatches Pass and Evades Three Tacklers for Games Lone Touchdown

Rogersville 0, Albany 7. And the shouts of the Golden supporters rang loud on the streets last night.

Football fiction is a puzzling thing. We read of the home team's display of desperate courage which halted the enemy's attack; we read of the ultimate victory it snatched from the very jaws of defeat—and we say it's only fiction. And then two squads trot on the field and show a variety of football battling that makes all fiction appear bloodless and we wonder why is fiction ever written.

Such was the "grudge game" here yesterday when Maty Holt snatched a pass from the outstretched arms of a Rogersville back, with but two minutes more to play, and twisted away from two tacklers and out ran a third for a touchdown which spelled the margin of defeat and victory in one of the most bitterly contested games local fans ever saw.

But to turn back the pages of the battle's history to the point where Albany's defense three times held for downs within a yard of her goal and read the lines, written in indelible colors. Three times in the closing quarters did Rogersville rip its way down the field to an apparently certain score, only to be turned back and the door of opportunity slammed tight in their faces on the final white chalked mark.

On these heights of super-defense, the whole Albany team starred. One time Rogersville had the ball, first down and only one yard to make, but the Golden jerseyed stalwarts barred the way. Three times Ezell, from behind his own goal, punted out of danger temporarily.

Albany stars were plentiful, but Handy, Holt and Wilson wrote their record with daring play. Twice Wilson stopped bucks in succession on the opposite side of the line from his own. Once Handy sped around the Rogersville interference and snagged the runner from behind, when the latter tried to pierce the opposite end from Handy. Once Holt, who part of the game backed up the line, broke entirely through the Rogersville forwards, and caught his man four yards behind the line of scrimmage. It was a great day for the whole team.

Ezell kicked for Albany to Rogersville who returned five yards. Rogersville fumbled twice on the first four line thrusts, Bowen stopped one without gain and the ball went over on Rogersville's 25-yard line. Albany failed to gain in two thrusts and Pate intercepted a pass from Tuck, McAbie tackling him in his tracks. ## DID YOU KNOW

James A. Garfield 1881. Lake Lincoln, James A. Garfield was truly a self-made man, having been a canal driver when a boy. He worked his way through college, and entering the civil war as a private, he rose by sheer merit to the rank of brigadier general. He was 49 years of age when he was inaugurated, and served only a little more than six months, being assassinated in a railroad station in Washington by Charles Guiteau, a disappointed office seeker.

General Garfield was a native of the Buckeye state which produced more presidents than any other state, except Virginia, the date of his birth being Nov. 19, 1831.
Next, Chester A. Arthur.
